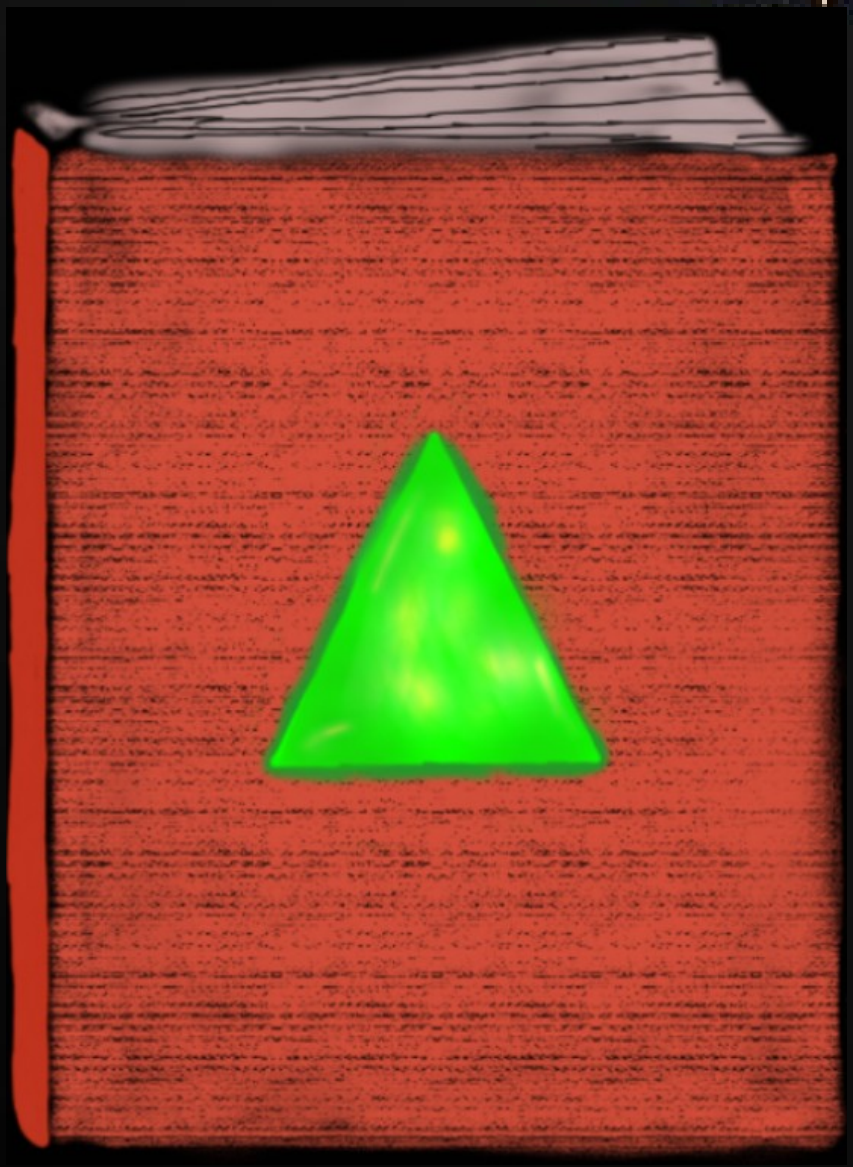
Eternal war



Chapter-1
Beginning

It was a cold snowy night. The thunder was rumbling, trees caught a blaze, houses burned with dark black smoke, the smoke filled the air and it was war. An entire village known by the name of Kohin was seized by a nomadic group of people named the battlers. They burned and slaughtered everything and everyone they came across in their rampage without any ounce of mercy or pity in their hearts. The leader Sagkhan ordered his men to destroy everything in their path and eradicate the entire Kohin race in an attempt to accumulate power and conquer the entire globe. In the midst of battle many of the Kohin warriors were killed or succumbed to their wounds at the end. A small boy named Herai was engulfed in fear and tried to escape from the commotions of battle. While he was running, he took a necklace which was hand made by his mother and gifted to him on his last birthday. He ran in the cold damn night as far as his legs could take him, he ran for miles and miles on and only taking short breaks to eat and quench his thirst. After running for days and even months on end he finally fainted on the cold forest floor and passed out due to hyperthermia. When he opened his eyes, he saw a girl tending to his wounds and putting a hot towel on his head. He got up and asked the girl to give him some water so the girl went and took a cup of water and gave it to Herai. Herai asked the girl what her name was and the girl replied that her name is Sake and told him that some local wood cutters came across him when they were walking through the woods in search of some wood to build a campfire and they brought him here .Herai thanked the girl for helping him recover and he went out of the clinic .He checked for his mother's necklace and found it in his back pocket and he tied it to his neck .Filled with sadness he starts to sing a song through the streets of Hero town to distract himself from the thoughts of his past. Suddenly some people started to notice him and started to give him some money. He casually walked on to a stage and someone gave him a mic and he started to sing. Some local boys joined alone with guitars and drums to create a local band. The people of the area gave sums of money for Hera's music and he was overjoyed and also thrilled. In a short span of time Herai and his other friends Jako,Rena,Unizaha and Jafaf formed a band named “God Reaper ” which became a sensational song in the state. He and his band made lots of money from the stage shows and contracts he had signed.

CHAPTER-2

The Turning Point

One day after his stage performances Herai was walking to a shop to get some food and drinks. The time was 12:00 and there was nobody on the streets except Herai. Herai started to sing a song. He suddenly fell into a hole on the ground. Due to the impact Herai was knocked out and his consciousness slipped away from him .After many hours he opened his eyes and slowly regained his consciousness ,he checked his watch but due to his watch being shattered due to the fall he was not able to tell the time. He gained all of his consciousness and looked towards the sky. He was baffled to see that the sky was pleasant blue and was filled with clouds. He looked beside him and saw a little girl was staring at him.He suddenly jumped up onto his feet .Herai asked the girl who she was and where was he .The girl replied by saying that her name is Quez and he was in the land of Imkas. The girl said that this is a mystical land where there are flying horses,dwarfs ,elfs and lizard men. The girl whistled at the air and soon a white horse came flying from the sky . The horse had a tail which had rainbow colors. She and Herai flew away on the horse towards the capital city . When they reached there Herai saw a board which read “Lavender town”. The both of them walked towards the entrances .

Herai saw large pillars made of gold and a huge mansion . In the middle there was a huge pond where there was shimmering and shining gold fish swimming and thrashing around in the pond. Quez took hold of Herai's hand and slowly pulled him away from the pond into the ruler's room. There Herai saw a person sitting on a golden throne and surrounded by many heavily armored soldiers. Herai and Quez took a bow in front of the king and Quez introduced Herai to the king . The king ordered herai to talk about his past and how he came to this place. Herai narrated his life in front of the king . The king said that his name was Roja and ordered his men to give Herai some food and proper dressing. Two soldiers came to Herai and took him to a huge table. They served him many kinds of food and also gave him some nice clothing. The king also gave Herai 1000 pieces of diamonds and sent him away with Quez. Quez took Herai to the market to buy him some weapons and groceries. They also buyed a small house in the centre of the country and Herai lived there happily. One day Herai visited his local market and found a shop that was selling swords. Herai went close to the shopkeeper and told him that he need a sword . The shopkeeper took Herai in and showed the sword collection he had. After spending hours on end trying to find a sword he liked, Herai did not get the sword he wanted. As Herai was leaving he saw light coming out of one of the rooms in the shop. Herai asked the shopkeeper to open the door. The shopkeeper told Herai that behind that door was the legendary sword era which was once used by one of the greatest warriors of his country named “Flaming light” .

Before his death Flaming light plunged the sword into the stone and since then no one has been able to lift the sword. Herai asked for an opportunity to try and lift the sword. The shopkeeper challenged Herai that if he saw able to take the sword out of the rock then he can get the sword for free. Herai accepted this challenge. The shopkeeper also said that after taking out the sword he must try to cut himself with the sword and if the sword does not damage him he can take it.

friend Zuler and said what had happened to him last night. Zuler was the son of a magician in the city and did not understand what the lines ment. After some time both of them went to have some food . They reached a shop which serves food and went inside. They ordered their food . After eating Herai went to the bathroom to wash his hands. He noticed that when he is holding a glass of water in his right hand the mirror shows that the water is in his left hand . Herai thought about this for some time and suddenly jumped out of his chair . His friend Zuler did not understand what Herai was doing . He asked Herai why he was happy. Herai said that he has solved the problem stating that a mirror always shows an inverted image of the person standing in front of it. After saying this Herai felt Zuler behind and ran home. After reaching home he went through his personal library and found a book. On one page of the book it says that a person can enter another dimension by drawing a picture on the mirror and following a ritual named “Dead walking”

He saw a picture of the image he should draw in order to enter the other side of the world. He ran to a wall in the room and placed his hand into a small chamber to the side of the wall. Suddenly a long and dark staircase opened in front of him and he started to descend the staircase. He lit a few candles laying around . He walked to a specific corner of the room and he was a huge mirror . He took out the mirror and started to draw the image on the mirror. After drawing he took his sword, bag and supplies and got ready. After drawing the diagram on the mirror, he sat down in front of the mirror and took a knife out of his bag. He made a cut on his finger and started to draw a star in front of the mirror on the ground. He closed his eyes and started to chant mystic prayers and continued doing it. Suddenly blue light started to come from the mirror and Herai disappeared. into the .

Chapter-3
The New World

The next time he opened his eyes he was not in the same room. He looked confused and trying to understand his new surroundings. He saw that he was sitting under a tree which strangely had dark red leaves and even the dark was darker red. He stood from the ground and looked around .The skies were black with dark clouds covering the sun and not letting any sunlight touch the surface. There was no vegetation except trees which were burned down and the told. Then Herai narrates his story and the purpose of coming to this place.The queen introduced herself as Clora and that she is the ruler of the kingdom of wind fairies. She also said that there are other elemental fairies spread around the world and advised to meet them in his journey as they will grant him powers which could help him in his ultimate goal .Clora gave some food and sweet nectar which she had collected to Herai . She also gave him a small pouch and said that it contains magical dust that allows the user to fly and heal any kind of wound received. The queen took Herai to the library and showed him a book titles “Everything about the Yin and Yan world”. She flipped through the book and stopped at the page which talks about the Yin dimension” . In the book it said that this place is filled with war and destruction all the time . The queen fairy also gave him a map to help him find the other element fairies. Herai thanked the fairy and continued his journey. Nico also joined Herai in his journey . Herai walked for some time and he took out his map . It showed that they have to go west in order to find the fire fairy. On the way Herai used magic to catch some fish and they ate it . By the time they finished eating the sun had already set and night time was nearing .So they made small tents and they went to sleep. The next day Herai was woken up by the bright sun's rays falling on his face.

Let the adventure begin down . Herai charged towards the monster and slashed its head off with his sword. The monster fell on the floor with a bang. Nico and Herai walked forward the volcano and jumped into it. They fell all the way till the bottom and miraculously there was water at the bottom and they survived the fall. They swam up from the water and were greeted by a group of soldiers. The soldiers brought them to the fire queen .Both of them bowed down and greeted the queen . The queen asked why they were here and they told their purpose of coming .The queen's face suddenly changed from delightful to sad and then to anger . In a rage the queen ordered me to throw both of them into the lava . Both of them got scared. The queen's guardians did as told and threw both of them into the lava .

Both Herai and Niko started to fall into the lava and both of them closed their eyes.

Chapter-5

Just a dream?

Suddenly Ojiko Chan jumped up from her bed. She looked around and realized that what she saw was just a dream. She went back to sleep. The next day when the alarm clock rang she woke up startled and fell from her bed to the floor. She realized that what she saw yesterday was a simple trick of her brain. She went downstairs and heard her mother yelling at her to go and freshen up . She did as she was told and went upstairs to take a bath. She got dressed and packed her books ,tablet and her laptop into her bag. She went down to the dining table and ate her breakfast . She thanked her mother and packed the lunch which she had made, into her back and went to the bus stop . She reached in front of her school and she was a little nervous. She saw a girl walking near to her and so she went towards the girl and asked her for her name and her class. The girl introduced her by saying her name was Regena . After talking for a while they came to know that they were in the same class which was grade 9 . Regena took her to the class room and both of them took a seat. The teacher came in and told everyone to introduce each other.Ojiko Chan walked forward to the class room and introduced her to the rest of the class . Everyone was happy to see a new student join the class. Ojiko Chan noticed one boy at the back seat who was not brothers by the rest or her arrival he was looking outside the window blankly .She shrugged it off and the teacher told her to go back to her seat. The teacher introduced himself as Sathish and told everyone that he is going to be there new class teacher , Everyone was very excited to see him and he gave Ojiko Chan a geometry box as a freshers gift. Sathish started the class by taking maths . He introduced trigonometric ratios as the first unit of the semester. At 10:00 the school bell rang and it was lunch break . During lunch Ojiko Chan and Regena went to the mess hall and waited in the que. There after getting there lunch which was grilled chicken and fried rice with a glass of milk chocolate milkshake. They got their lunch and they found a seat at the back and sat here. While they were eating, they heard a group of students gathering at the walkway of the hall. They went there and saw a boy engaging in a qural with another school boy of a smaller grade. The boy finally took the small boy by the collar and threw him into the wall. This boy approached Ojiko Chan and gave her a shake hand and introduced himself as Hekusa and that he was in 10th grade and asked her if he could be there friend and join their group. Ojiko Chan agreed and all three of them went to their lunch table and ate there lunch happily. After lunch they all went to their respected classes and said goodbye to each other. When Regena and Ojiko Chan walked into the class they saw a huge bucket of water fall on them from the top of the door. They were drenched in water and it spoiled their uniform. They saw the same boy laughing at them. Ojiko Chan walked up to the boy and slapped him on his face hard. The boy fell down due to the shear force he received the slap to his face and lost his consciousness. The next time the boy opened his eyes he was in the school infirmary with a huge roll of bandage on his head and he was surrounded by the school nurse, Ojiko Chan and Regena on his side staring at him with a small sadness on there face. The boy asked what had happened as he forgot everything that has happened due to being hit. Ojiko Chan apologized to the boy and asked his name, the boy said his name was Kero and that he was in 8th grade. The boy asked Ojiko Chan if she was fine after the bucket of water fell on her. She said it was ok and she had to change her cloths. After that the nurse requested someone to stay with Kero for the night in the hospital . Ojiko Chan volunteered to stay with him much to the disapproval of Regena who was planning to go to the park with Ojiko Chan. Regena said her goodbyes to Ojiko Chan and felt for her house. Ojiko Chan and Kero were stuck with each other . After evening studying and talking Ojiko Chan ordered some noodles for both of them . Both of them ate it and chatted all night long and talked about there likes and disliked and where they lived , family etc. After that Kero asked Ojiko Chan to give him a glass of soda. Ojiko Chan agreed and gave him a class of soda to drink. After that Ojiko Chan pulled out a mattress and slept on top of it on the floor .They both told good night to each other and they turned of the lights and went to sleep. The next day Regena came to the hospital with food and games for the both of them. Kero was back to health and got discharged from hospital. All of them went to Kero's house for the day they were greeted by his mother. His mother had prepared many delouses food for them and they ate dinner from there and slept in his house for the day. The next day they woke up and was getting ready for school they turned on the T.V for entertainment. After that they went to their school. They went to school and the classes started. Their teacher told them that they are planning to go for a field trip on Monday to a forest. All of the students were happy about their school trip and gave their names for the trip. The next Monday Ojiko Chan, Kero, Regena, Hekusa and their class teacher Sathish all boarded their bus and went for a 5-day trip to a forest located just on the outskirts of the country. All four of the friends had plenty of fun time and spent most of their time talking, dancing and singing songs throughout the journey. It was already midnight by the time they reached the forest.

Into the wild we go

They rested near a lake. Sathish sir instructed the students to make tents for them self and help their friends if need. Sathish sir took a motor chainsaw out of his bag and said to his students that he is going to cut down some trees to be used as fuel to burn there campfire, after saying this he went deep undercover into the jungle. Ojiko Chan, Kero, Regena Sathish sir took his bag and the chainsaw with him for the adventure. They packed a compass to guide their way through the jungle and they were ready to start their journey. They followed the map and travelled east till they reached a lake. They fished for some fish and fried them for their future journey. They still continued to travel east. After walking for a while, they reached the bottom of a huge hill. They understood that they had to climb and reach the other side of the hill. They pulled out ropes from their bags and tied them to each other's bodies and started to climb the hill. When they were almost about to reach the top of the hill Hekusa's rope suddenly snapped and he was almost about to fall to the bottom of the hill. Sathish sir quickly jumped into action and he caught Hekusa's rope and hoisted him up. He also called his students to help him and all of them safely pulled Hekusa up to the top. They finally reached the top of the hill and they thought of rolling down the mountain. So, all of them layed down on the ground and rolled all the way down to the bottom of the hill. They got up from there and continued on their journey. Regena was very much amazed but the flora and fauna she could see and expereans and she also collected some wild berries she found hanging on a tree. They continued their journey north. They reached a river bank and as the sun had already started to set, they decided to rest and put up there camp near to the river. They all went to sleep at midnight. They next day when Hekusa opened his eyes he saw a huge figure stranding just a few feet's away from him. He quickly jumped up from his bed and he just rubbed his eyes and he looked around but the figure had disappeared from his site. He communicated this event with his friends and teachers but all of them said that it may just be a dream. All of them packed their things and continued their journey north. After walking for some miles, they reached a beach. They referred the map and, on the map, it showed that the place was beyond the ocean. So, all of them gathered their courage and decided to cross the sea. Sathish sir quickly chopped down a tree using his chainsaw and the team skilfully carved the tree into a very sturdy boat. They all hoped into the boat and started their voyage across the great sea.

The Great Sea Voyage

They continued their journey through the great seas. Kero took out a fishing rod and started to fish for fish. When the others asked why he was doing this re smiled and replied because he was feeling very board and needed to do something to pass time so he thought of catching some fish. After hearing to this all of the others started a competition on who will catch the greatest number of fish and so the challenge started. All of them took out there fishing rods and started to fish. Half an hour passed by but nobody caught a fish but still they were very determined and continued with the game. Finally after hours of waiting Kero felt a tug on this line he applied all his might and pulled hard on this rod but the fish pulled him harder. He called all his friends to help him out and all of them helped him. All of them pulled hard on the line and finally they were able to pull out the entire fish out. Only after they had relied it on board did they realise that what they had caught was in fact a huge shark. They were very over joyed on their catch and they all rejoiced on the fact that they will not have to fish again as the shark was enough to quench there hunger for a long time. After cooking the shark with a flamethrower, they all happily ate parts of the shark and drank some Pepsi. After that they all went to sleep with a full stomach. After some time all of the members of the boat were fast asleep. They did not realise that their boat was going out of control and they were heading right into a raging tsunami in the middle of the ocean. The tsunami was very reputed for brutally killing and destroying many ships and people. When Sathish sir opened his eyes he was greeted with the horrifying site of a 500 story tall tsunami coming at high speeds right into their boat. Quickly Sathish sir woke up everyone else and showed them the tsunami coming right for them. All of them were very terrified at seeing the tsunami. Quickly all of them closed their eyes and fell asleep again. The tsunami came crashing down on them and destroyed their boat. The next time Niko Chan opened her eyes she was laying on sand completely dredged in water. She also saw Regena on top of a tree, Kero was almost completely covered in sand except his head which was sticking out. Sathish sir was unconscious on top of the upside down boat and Hekusa was on top of a rock. Niko Chan first went and woke up Sathish sir and she poured water on his face and he woke up. Next both of them woke up Hekusa and then they pulled down Regena from top of the tree and then finally all of them pulled out Kero from the sand. They took out the map and checked where they have reached.

They came to know that they were in the place marked on the map. They came to know that they were in the correct place. They continued to follow the map deeper into the jungle in peruse of the treasure. They finally reached a gutter in middle of the jungle. They took out there flashlights and thy descended down into the gutter. They all took out their respected weapons of choice and started to walk forward. They did not know what was waiting for them at the end of their journey.

Deep into darkness

They continued to travel deeper and deeper into the gutter, only a torch light paving path for them to see in the dark. They walked on the sides of the tunnel they all quickly wore a mask as they were not able to withstand the punching smell coming from the sewage water flowing close to them.Nicko Chan placed her hand on the wall of the gutter and she felt the cold wet wall was covered in a sticky substance. She turned around and saw her friends slowly trailing behind her. She gave them some confidence and tried to lift there spirit. After walking for some time they reached a room which branched into three different path ways. All of them stop for a while and decided on which path they should follow next. Sathish sir proposed the idea that they should probably follow the right path to reach the treasure all of them thought for a while and decided that they should take the right path as proposed by Sathish sir. As they were walking through the path a huge crocodile came from the water and attacked Kero and bit into his right leg . The crocodile started to pull him into the waters as he screamed for help to his friends. Sathish sir quickly took out his chain saw and turned it on and quickly sliced the crocodile into two the blood of the crocodile splashed on to the faces of his students as they stood there frozen due to fear.

Sathish sir turned around and said to his students that their journey from here will be very difficult and they will have to fight for their survival in this deep harsh place. After cleaning of blood stains with a piece of cloth all of them continued to travel deeper into the tunnel. They all started to sing songs in hop of wavering their minds from the dangers that lay ahead of them. They used a piece of cloth and some medicines to treat Keros' wounds. After that they continued even deeper in pursuit of their journey. As they were walking Sathish sir the other side. Ojiko Chan turned around and saw a raging hoard of skeletons now accompanied by zombies rushing right to them. The team had to think and act quickly in order to survive the on slot of monsters which were charging towards them. Ochiko Chan sat down on the floor and started to meditate in order to get ideas .The rest of the team got bored staring at the monster and they decided to take a quick snack. They laid down table cloths and unpacked the food to eat. They ate some buns and fried rice while the monsters reached near to them. As soon as they finished eating food Ochiko Chan rose up from the ground and said that she had found an idea. She said that they could use the skeletons bones to build a bridge across the gap and cross it. After all of them agreed that this was a great idea they walked towards the skeleton army. They sliced and battled many skeletons and collected there bones. After collecting they used the bones with some pieces of rope they had in there bag to build a bridge. Kero tied two stones on one side of the bridge and started to spin it at high speeds and then he threw it the bridge successful landed on the other side of the gap and locked in place. All of them then started to walk across the bridge to the other side. While walking the bridge swayed slightly from left to right. The only light they had with them to show their way was a small flash light which they had packed with them which only showed what was in front of them the rest was just completely dark . They could hear droplets of water falling from the ceiling on to the ground drip, drip, drip. A breeze of cold freezing air blew all across them which shivered them to the core. Still they continued walking forward and forward as they were overpowered with confidences. As they were walking they saw a glimpse of light from the end of the tunnel they were very happy seeing this and they rushed towards it. They dashed towards it there expression of happiness changed as soon as they entree into the room. The light that was coming from it was because the whole place was in fire and there was also a huge demon waiting for them inside ready to fight them. The demon started to blow fire at them . A hue fire ball came rushing towards Hekusa when he opened his eyes Sathish sir quickly pulled him by his collar and moved him away from the dashing ball of fire , the fire ball missed Hekusa by just 2millimeter distance. All of them took out there respected weapons and charged towards the demon.

Ochiko Chan took out a drabbling hook and shoot it at the ceiling of the cave the hook flew out from the gun and struck the ceiling.

She used it to swing and took the chainsaw from sir’s hand and used it to slice the demons head. The demon fell to the ground and died. A bright flash of light engulfed the cave and blinded the students and teacher.
When the light went out they opened there eyes and saw a box where once stood the demon. They rushed towards it and opened it. Inside they saw some food and a gem. As soon as she touched the stone a text box appeared in front of them and said levelled up tools. And they realised that there weapons where now glowing and did more damage than before. They took their newly improved weapons and continued their journey forward. As they were moving Hekusa felt that they were stuck in the same place and that they were slowly sinking down.That is when everyone realised that they were stuck in quicksand and that they were slowly sinking deeper into the sand. They all started to panic which caused them to sink even faster .They all quickly froze and they slowly tugged into a fall and laid still in the sand. That was a great idea as after laying like that they slowly started to rise to the surface of the sand. They took out there garbling hook and shot it at the ceiling and used it to climb out of the sand. They washed away the mud and dirt that was covering their body and moved forward. As they continued on their path they finally came to a dead end and there was a huge wall in front of them. Sathish sir tried pushing away the rock but the rock did not budge. All of them together tried to push away the rock but it did not work. Nick Chan spotted a lever on the ground some distance away. She walked towards

The Flora & Fauna

They all walked around and explored there new jungle environment and was amazed by the vivid and wide variety of unique and exiting plants and animals they saw and encountered there. Ojiko Chan saw a very interesting flower which had 80 petals in one flower with each flower having different colours. She pluck the flower and dropped it into her pocket. Suddenly Sathish sir called them over to show them something he had found out. All of his students came running over to him. He showed them a cave which they could renovate and life there. Sathish sir took out his chainsaw from the pocket of his jacket and told the students that he was going to collect some fire wood to make fire for the night. He felt the students alone to explore the jungle freely .After saying this he pulled the string on his chain saw and climbed up a tree. He used a hanging vine from the tree and used it to swing from one tree to on other and within minutes he had disappeared into the jungle. Kero went towards the river which was flowing near to the cave and created a water filtration system by using his flaming bat to heat the water and kill all the germs. Meanwhile Hekusa collected some flowers and leaves to modify the cave. She tied some sticks to make a broom and used it to broom out all the dirt and dust from the cave and made it clean. She used the leaves to use as makeshift beds and layered it on the cave floor and tested it and it was working very well. She used the flowers to decorate the interior of the cave walls by placing it all over the walls. On the other side Ojiko Chan went and collected some vines and leaves. She used the vines to decorate the entrance of the cave and used the leaves to weave chairs and tables out of the tree leaves. Within minutes she had created 2 pairs of chairs and a table which they could use to sit and dine on. By the time they had finished decorating and renovating the cave the sun had already started to set and noon was around the corner so they decided to go to the nearby river and play volleyball in water. They made small balls out of the tree leaves and changed their dress and went to the river to play. They split into two groups with Ojiko Chan and Hekusa in one group and the opposing group will be Kero and Regena. They started by passing the ball around each person looking on who will score the most number of goals. They played for a while and finally Kero and Regena won the match with 3:2 points. They all came out of the river as it was almost sunset and the place was getting darker. After some time Sathish sir came swings on a vine and landed in the river. When he came out he had accidentally also caught a fish in his pocket and very one laughed at it. Sathish sir used the fire wood he had brought and a matchstick to light a small fire inside the cave. They all made a campfire near to the river and roosted some fish and wild berries for dinner. Ojiko Chan accidentally dropped her ball from her hand and the ball rolled away into a bush she went behind it and reached the bush .She started using her hand to search for the ball in the woods suddenly she felt something catch in her hand she tried to pull it out but it did not move. She moved aside the bush and she was shocked to see a boy was laying unconsciousness. She tried hitting the boy in the face and slapped him but he did not react then she kicked him but still he did not respond then finally she gave CPR to the boy and the boy suddenly jumped up and stood on his legs aiming a sword at Ojiko Chan . Ochiko Chan suddenly fell backwards after being startled by the sudden attack but she stood up and asked the boy for his name in a sweet voice. The boy started to speak something but fainted due to fatigue. Ojiko Chan took the boy back to camp. There Sathish sir used some herbal medicine and mixed it and gave it to the boy the boy made quick recovery and opened his eyes.

Hekusa gave the boy some boiled water to drink and some fired berries. The boy drank and ate the food and smiled at them Ochiko Chan asked the boy what his name was and the boy responded by saying that his name was Amreth and that he had been stuck in his forest for 9 years .
He had come in search for the treasure with his parents but sadly his parents were killed by a flesh eating flower which is common in this forest. All of them felt sad and started to cry after heading the story. All of them consulted him and told him not to cry and that he is with them now and he will be safe. After that they all went to sleep. The next day they all woke up and packed their bags to continue their journey towards the treasure.

The End Of Light

They continued in the north direction and they were also aided by Amreth in their journey. Finally after walking for some time they reached in front of a huge structure which looked like a temple . They noticed that such a place was also marked with a red cross on the map and they came to the conclusion that this must be the temple they have been searching for which housed the treasure. They saw a stone

OchikoChan took out her bow and loaded it with arrows and fired a huge number of arrows at the monsters . Regena took out her MG3 Machine Gun and loaded it with a load of bullets and took aim and started rapidly shooting at the group of monsters nonstop. She took one more refill and loaded it and continued to shoot. Sathish sir took out a handful of grenades, pulled the pi and threw it at the hoard of monsters and the grenades blew up killing a huge number of monsters . OchikoChan took the flaming bat from Keros hand and jumped into the air. She turned on the bat and a blue flame came out of it. She plunged it into the heart of the dragon and killed it. The dragon fell dead and all of them were covered in blood from the battle. They went towards the chest and opened it. A ray of shining light blinded them and when the light vanished they opened their eyes. They saw that the chest was completely filled with bars of gold,emerald and silver coins. Suddenly a blue portal opened in front of them and they closed their eyes and entered it. They opened their eyes and saw that they were now standing in front of their school building . They all were very happy and rejoiced. They distributed the treasure between them and all of them said goodbye to each other and walked away from each other in pursuit of their own
